The prepaid StudentCard.
Smart, convenient, reloadable.

The latest school of thought on teaching financial responsibility.

Giving teens the financial independence they crave while teaching them how to manage money is a challenge for any parent. Our prepaid StudentCard will help make it easier for both of you.

You'll be involved and in control every step of the way.

Simply load the card with the amount of money you want your teen to have, then give him or her the card.

The StudentCard is accepted anywhere Visa is accepted, so it couldn't be more convenient. Your teen can use it for everything from clothes and travel to online purchases. It's also safer than carrying cash, giving both of you peace of mind. And when cash is needed, your teen can withdraw it from any Visa/PLUS ATM, freeing you from repeated requests for money and trips to the ATM.

The StudentCard is also highly secure. It's backed by Visa's Zero Liability Policy, so neither you nor your teen will be liable for fraudulent charges if the card is lost or stolen.

Both of you can check transaction history, account balance, and view purchases online anytime, day or night to track spending so you can teach budgeting skills.

Reload the card with funds or block use of it 24/7.

Like all of our reloadable prepaid cards, you can reload the card 24/7 with funds from your checking account using your Hughes Visa Check Card or Hughes Credit Card, either online or by phone. And if you're unhappy with how your teen is managing money, you can block use of the card whenever you want.

The StudentCard is available in two versions: personalized and non-personalized. Talk to a Hughes Federal Credit Union representative about details on each.

Experience is the best teacher.

StudentCard is one of the smartest, easiest ways to teach teens about financial responsibility. To learn more about the StudentCard or to get one, talk to a Hughes Federal Credit Union representative. Members can also purchase their card in eBranch online banking.
